

ScamSmart: Don't let a scammer enjoy your retirement

A joint campaign by The Pensions Regulator (TPR) and the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA)

28 June 2019

Objective

On the 1st July the Pensions Regulator and the Financial Conduct Authority are re-launching their joint campaign to help prevent pension scams.

There are three aims:

- Provide savers aged 45-65 with the knowledge and tools to avoid pension scams.
- Provide intermediaries with the knowledge and tools to help their clients.
- Ensure that employers are equipped to direct staff towards help.

Pension scams are devastating. In 2017 victims lost
on average:

£91,000

Building on last year's success

Last year's campaign was a success:

- 390 pieces of PR coverage
- 170,000 visits to the ScamSmart website
- 420 users warned about using an unauthorised firm

But there is still much more to do to:

- increase the perceived risk of scams
- make people feel it could happen to them
- get savers to check with the FCA before making decisions on their pensions

Our target audience: pension savers aged 45-64

- Generally, consumer understanding of, and engagement with, pensions is low.
- Low awareness of pension scams and what a scam entails.
- Most consumers are likely to turn to informal forms of advice, e.g. friends/family, and online searches, when further support is required.

Secondary audience: intermediaries and employers

Intermediaries – “You are the professional. Scammers are not”

- Providers, trustees and business advisers have a one-to-many relationship with members/clients.
- They also have a role themselves to understand how to safeguard their members’/clients’ savings from scams

Employers – “Who is looking out for your staff? Scammers are not”.

- Employers are essential as a direct channel to talk to pension savers - their staff.
- We are encouraging employers to get to know their responsibilities and protect their savers from scammers.

Key campaign messages

Beware the tactics of pension scammers - unsolicited offers, offers of free reviews, time pressure

Four simple steps to protect yourself from pension scams:

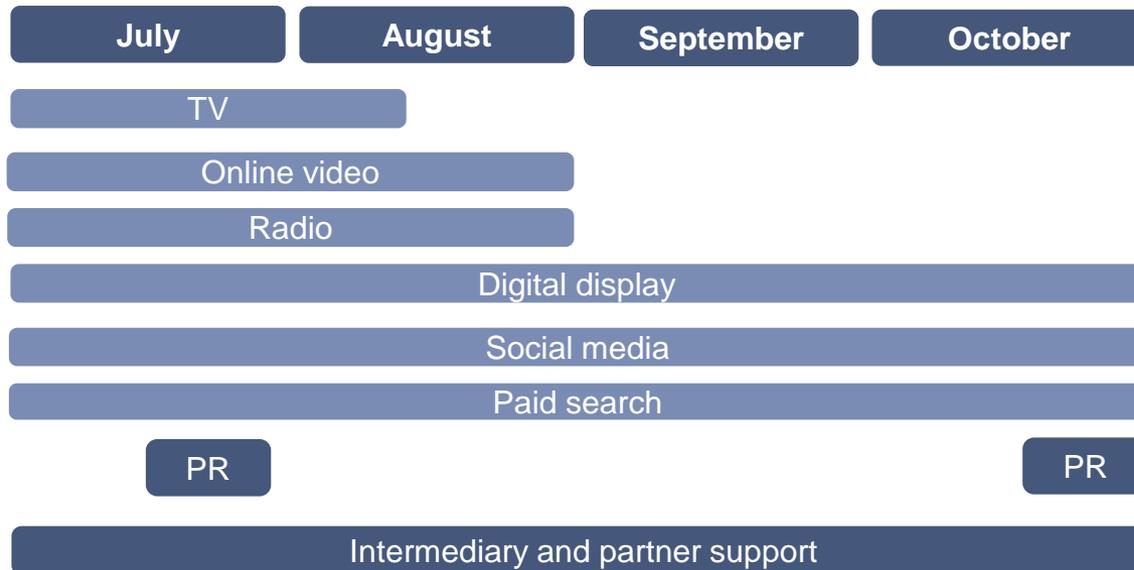

1. Reject unexpected pension offers.
2. Check the status of a firm with the FCA before changing your pension arrangements.
3. Don't be rushed or pressured into making any decision about your pension.
4. Consider getting impartial information and advice.

DON'T LET A SCAMMER ENJOY YOUR MEMBER'S RETIREMENT

Scheme transfer checklist

If a member is asking for a scheme transfer, you can use this checklist to find out more about the receiving scheme and how the member came to make the request.

You should also read Consulting Pension Schemes, the code of good practice for trustees and administrators by the Pensions Schemes Industry Group.

Answering YES to any of these questions individually does not necessarily indicate a pension scam, but if several features are present there may be cause for concern.

Trustees and administrators should take care to ensure that they have the exact name of the scheme correct – in some instances, similar schemes have been set up with names that are almost identical to legitimate schemes.

THE NATURE/STATUS OF A SCHEME	How to establish
Is the scheme to which the member wishes to transfer?	Check the scheme is registered with HMRC for tax purposes. Ask the pension scheme in question for documentary evidence of their registration. You can also write to HMRC for confirmation.
Is the scheme a personal pension (a SIPP) where the scheme operator is not authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA)?	Check the scheme operator is authorised with the FCA. www.fca.org.uk/register
Is a recently set up small self-administered scheme (SSAS), where the member is a trustee?	Ask the member

Other information from the scheme is:

- Compare the House for details of the SIPA <https://www.sipa.gov.uk>
- Ask the member for details of their pension providers with the FCA. www.fca.org.uk/register
- Ask the member
